

Python Fundamentals Assessment

Section A – Basic Concepts

1. What is a computer language?
2. What are the different types of programming languages? Explain their uses.
3. What is an interpreter?
4. What is Python?
5. Who invented Python?
6. In which year was Python first released?
7. What is the latest stable version of Python?
8. Why is Python called a high-level programming language?
9. Name any two online Python coding platforms.
10. What is an IDE? Give examples of Python IDEs.
11. What are the advantages of using an IDE instead of a text editor such as Notepad?
12. What is the file extension used for Python programs?
13. How do you execute a Python program?

Section B – Input and Output

14. What are input and output operations in Python? Provide examples.
15. Write a Python program that takes a user's name as input and displays a greeting message.

Section C – Operators and Comments

16. What is the concatenation operator in Python? Give an example.
17. What are comments in Python?
18. What are the different types of comments available in Python? Explain with examples.

Section D – Variables

19. What is a variable?
20. What are the rules for naming variables in Python?
21. Write examples of valid and invalid variable names.